

Wings of Madness

Serenity

Out on the silent battlefield,
When the killing work is done and the crimson haze has gone,
Still lies the deadly sword I wield
And I'm dreaming of your face, have begun to count the days

But I fear to face a dreadful fate
I am afraid to lose the one I cherish

No sun is shining in the sky
On wings of madness we will fly
We can't cross the distance
Away from reason
No sun is shining in your eyes
A shadow growing in disguise
I can't stand the silence
Embracing you at night

Here in the corners off my mind
Is a constant, longing scream, like an echo of a dream Oh there is al ways peace to find
In a drop of blood that shines while a lonesome creature whines

Can I save you from a dreadful fate,
I am afraid to lose the one I cherish

No sun is shining in the sky
On wings of madness we will fly
We can't cross the distance
Away from reason
No sun is shining in your eyes
A shadow growing in disguise
I can't stand the silence
Embracing you at night

I see you dancing with your demons

No sun is shining in the sky
On wings of madness we will fly
We can't cross the distance
Away from reason
No sun is shining in your eyes
A shadow growing in disguise
I can't stand the silence
Embracing you

No sun is shining in the sky
On wings of madness we will fly
I can't stand the silence
Embracing you at night