

Admit It

Set It Off

You look at me with accusing eyes,
Like I'm the one that put you on trial,
You say that they got you wrong,
But this voice in my head's saying stay away.

You tell me not to listen, I can't believe it,
Covered up my eyes so I couldn't see it,
Guess you never know, what you never know,
But this voice in my head doesn't go away.
My heart is at my feet,
And it seems everything's about to change.

Just admit it!
You made your own bed,
It's time to sleep in it,
Just admit it!
You dug your own grave,
That now you're buried in.
Is it your story we're missing? Well did we blink? Did we miss it?
Lemme tell you why I know you won't,
Just admit it!
Because the truth won't set you free...

Stop! Cause it's overwhelming
I'm not prepared for goodbye,
But you fucked up when you tried to hide it,
You can't let go of your pride, whoa.
Take your excuses, you tied your own nooses,
You're hanging yourself out to dry.

You tell me not to listen, I can't believe it,
Covered up my eyes so I couldn't see it,
Guess you never know, what you never know,
But this voice in my head doesn't go away.
My heart is at my feet,
And it seems everything's about to change.

Just admit it!
You made your own bed,
It's time to sleep in it,
Just admit it!
You dug your own grave,
That now you're buried in.
Is it your story we're missing? Well did we blink? Did we miss it?
Lemme tell you why I know you won't,
Just admit it!
Because the truth won't set you free...

Just admit it,
You dug your own grave, that now you're buried in...

Just admit it!
You made your own bed,
It's time to sleep in it,
Just admit it!
You dug your own grave,
That now you're buried in.

Is it your story we're missing? Well did we blink? Did we miss it?
Lemme tell you why I know you won't,
Just admit it!
Because the truth won't set you free...
