

Dream Catcher

Set It Off

Oh I've been sitting here for hours
As I wish for this to start I set my standards high in hopes they will not fall apart

Its almost like I fell asleep
My doubts have seemed to fade
Because I've opened up my eyes to see I'm right where I planned to be Today!!
Today!!

Cast your net, cast it out and I hope to god you'll scream and shout
It's everything you wanted, maybe more

Anyone can dream through that night But only some can dream with eyes wide and there lies the fight inside and resides in everyone
They will proclaim you a fool and every mind you do Do anything and everything to prove them a liar

It's almost like I fell asleep
my doubts all seem to fade
because I've opened up my eyes to see
I'm right where I planned to be Today!!
Today!!

Cast your net, cast it out
and I hope to god you'll scream and shout
its everything you wanted, maybe more

Does it seem out of reach?
Hit the ground, and walk with both your feet
There's a lesson that I hope to teach Believe you'll be a dream catcher Cry out loud and take the stage and don't let skeptics slow your pace with every forward step you'll take They're a breath away
They're a breath away

But believe, believe they'll spit their words and some will say it seems absurd But devour the cynics, dismiss the critics,
and mark my words

Cast your net, cast it out
And I hope to god you'll scream and shout
It's everything you wanted, maybe more
Today!!
Today!!

Cast your net, cast it out
And I hope to god you'll scream and shout
It's everything you wanted, maybe more

Does it seem out of reach?
Hit the ground, and walk with both your feet
Heres a lesson that I hope to teach
Believe you'll be a dream catcher
Please believe you'll be a dream catcher
