

Miss Mysterious

Set It Off

Miss mysterious, who are you?
Who's the girl behind those eyes?
Just a stranger in disguise
Miss mysterious, who could you be?
Was the ghost of what we had?
Did you erase it from your past?

So I pointed in every direction
Looking for answers I'll never know

I said go, run for your life, and tell me I'm right
Or let me know when your heart went up
I said go, run for your life, and tell me I'm right
The saying goes, "If you love someone, let them go"

Miss mysterious, may I ask?
Does his sunshine lack my rain?
Does your pleasure lack my pain?
So delirious, casting your stones
With the blood through to my veins
Hoping that you'll lose your aim

Well it looks so bright with the lights out
I guess our stars forgot how to glow

I said go, run for your life, and tell me I'm right
Or let me know when your heart went up
I said go, run for your life, and tell me I'm right
The saying goes, "If you love someone, let them go"

Now baby you, you broke my heart
Now how do I get closure when you're only ever closed off
Tell me who gets in your place?
When these memories are telling me
That we were not always
Now don't even try to tell me that I should just relax
And we're not strangled and over the tracks
I tried to reach, I stuck out my hand but you turned around instead
So many nights living inside just to connect with you
Now I'm trying hard to win this but we lost all we can lose

I said go, run for your life, and tell me I'm right
Or let me know when your heart went up
I said go, run for your life, and tell me I'm right
The saying goes, "If you love someone, let them go"
