

Something New

Set It Off

Well I've been stuck in,
My head wonderin',
What's it gonna take to break the mold,
I'm searchin' for something,
That fire, that lightning,
I used to think was uncontainable.

And if there's one thing in my life,
That I've been fighting day and night,
Well it's the fear of changing nothing,
So when I open up my eyes,
And shake that worry from my mind,
I checked the clock and it's still running.

So lemme show you something new,
I need a little revolution,
This could be like a revelation,
Make you see oh that a change is overdue,
Lemme show you something new.
Ba dah bop ba dah dah
Yeah!

I think it, I say it, I write it, erase it,
And break my back so I don't let you down,
I'm restless and twisted, strung out, addicted
To chasing after picture perfect sound.

And if there's one thing in my life,
That I've been fighting day and night,
Well it's my fear of flying standby,
I feel I've opened up my eyes,
I shook the nightmare from my mind,
I checked the clock and now it's my time.

So lemme show you something new,
I need a little revolution,
This could be like a revelation,
Make you see oh that a change is overdue,
Lemme show you something new.
Ba dah bop ba dah dah
Yeah!

We strike the match, ignite the room,
Let's turn up the sound to something' new,
Breathe in the fire then breathe it out, sing it back!

So lemme show you something new,
I need a little revolution,
This could be like a revelation,
Make you see oh that a change is overdue,
Lemme show you something new.
Ba dah bop ba dah dah
Yeah!
