

I'll Haunt You

Seth Lakeman

A year at sea since your letter came
To shatter all our plans
You set me free, changed your name
I stretch out both these hands

On board ship the rumours ride
No-one meets my eye
I've thrown your ring out on the tide
I pray my curses fly

To haunt you
Haunt your bed
Tap the windows you'll wake in dread
Pray that you'd loved me instead
I'll haunt you, I'll haunt your bed

I've walked alone upon this deck
A thousand times or more
Half a year from my return
These cries fly back to shore

You promised me your love was strong
You said that you'd be true
Go tell yourself now I'm long gone
'Cause here's what I will do

I'll haunt you
Haunt your bed
Tap the windows you'll wake in dread
Pray that you'd love me instead
I'll haunt you, I'll haunt your bed
I'll haunt you
Sleep in fear
Whisper secrets in your ear
A world away but I'll be near
I'll haunt you

Fear me
Whenever you're sleeping
I will be watching over you
