

All These Dreams

Sev

All these dreams seem so far away in my head

Damn, I'm lovin this shit
Living in it, I got the people singing our hits
It's like wild, cause I was up all night
With my pen in my right drinking 8 Miller Lights
Trimming off the fat is where we're at,
We're getting leaner
I'm looking at the other side,
The grass is getting greener
I mean I opened up the flood gates
Dance clubs to arenas
Light on my feet, the air is getting cleaner
I got the bomb shit, can you handle this
It's in my brain through this pen hits my pad
Oh my God are you out there and can you handle this
We're gonna put the mother fucking
Asses out of business.. NOW

All these dreams seem so far away in my head

So what happened to the good old days,
Everybody says
When way back in the day that
Dreams filled our heads
Of opening up shows we worked so hard
To get in the door
And put our best friends inside the clubs
To fill the floors
See we've loved and lost a lot,
And put our dreams aside
To go on this trip, the best rides of our lives
Of good friends, we've kept them close
Not because of status
See this is al real but to get it you gotta have it
Taking time to get it right and lived our lives
With high intentions
Feeding off each other, did I forget to mention
All these dimensions that circle with high intensity
Fusing together, the new school reality

All these dreams seem so far away in my head

Yo, what's up? Sev Sev is gonna tear it up.
I said yo, what's up? Sev Sev is gonna tear it up

Whatever I wanted, whatever I needed
You have always been there for me
And when there was doubt I would never turn my back
'Cause I've always needed you.
