

Menace

Sev

Every single day a smile on my face Consistently around, I can not relate I distance me persistently am I the one that's in the wrong 25 years, I'm already gone
But it's too late now to go back how I'm off on my own 2 backpacks & a knapsack & a bag to get me what That's all I've ever needed it's always been repeated I've never been defeated cuz I land back on my feet again

Cuz I'm a menace too society and I don't wanna become what's in me

Grow up it's time for you to move on They say doing what you want to do can only get you so long But don't try to blame me for shit I didn't do Cuz that will only get you places you don't want to go too
But I can understand in the end Deceptions got you all fucked up my friend But that's ok I just blaze the path and through the hour glass My time will pass like everyone else has

All I need is the sun today but the sun won't come out today
