

Return to the Past

Seven Thorns

I see wonders - I see beauty all around
Clear blue skies
And stars shining bright at night!

Everything that I use to dream of
Is right here - it's all in my hands
I am glad and thankful for living
No questions here - I'm alive!

Still it feels like there's a black hole in my heart
Sadness seems to travel with me
All around!

Here the sun shine - it feels like forever
There's a smile - that won't leave my face
But I cannot get rid of this feeling
There's a place that's calling my name!

So I'll be going back to my real home
Going back to where I belong
To the place where it all started
Back where I found my call!

Everything is passing by so very slow
Now I know that I am heading
Back to home!

Time moves on - it feels like forever
When there's a place
Where you rather would be
And I'm sad because I'm leaving
This wonderful place of my dreams!

Save at last - I feel the comfort in my soul
Peace at heart - familiar place I call home!

But the dream - it's slowly returning
I want out - I need to break free
Pack my bags - I'm ready to go now
To a place where I long to be!

So I'll be going back to my dream world
Going back to where I belong
To the places where it all started
Back where I found my call!

An endless journey
Is the life I live?
I travel on
As I am heading for home!

I feel the yearning
Deep inside my soul
I need to go
I need to feel safe at home!
