Contradiction

Sevendust

I learned a lesson on my first day. You were far too divine to say... How can you hold onto a mistake? And I told you why.

Don't defend what you didn't say.
Another taste for conflict anyway.
Pretend again who you are today,
To give a reason to contradict again.

You were foreer with a bitter mind, And the darkness is consuming. You talk the bullshit and you rob the blind. Now you live a lie.

Don't defend what you didn't say.
(I got) another taste for conflict anyway.
Pretend again who you are today,
(And try) to give a reason to contradict again. (2x)
