Big City Sharks

Seventh Avenue

They are everywhere and always there At anytime and anywhere They don't foul up Never! They know everything about everyone They know everything about you Everyone knows and fears them They are the untouchables Don't ever cross with them If you do, you'll be the next one

Big city sharks their shadows aren't just in the city Big city sharks they'll find your weakness too Big city sharks straight thinkers always right Big city sharks they'll show you your facts too So strong everyone astounded So stupid everyone's screaming So smart and perfectly gifted That they only cry when they're alone

Hey shark who but you loves you? Hey shark there is one you don't love him Hey shark you can't fool him Hey shark don't forget that you are not God! They drive better whatever that means They love much better however that goes Someday you'll see their weaknesses too cause one day they'll stand before God too.
