Children

Seventh Avenue

Waste my life and see tomorrow Waste my life and see today See this world full of pain and horror Why can't they understand?

Hear the children cry In this world of war See your mother die With her babies in her arms

Overfed with crime and terror Sitting, watching war TV Demonstrating people want to Live in peace and harmony

After all this time there never will be crime After all this time where children never die After all this time the sun is shining bright After all this time you'll feel no loneliness

After all this time there never will be crime After all this time where children never die After all this time the sun is shining bright After all this time you'll feel no loneliness
