Just Believe

Seventh Avenue

Where is the promised land Where is the way Turn everything away What is right to do Where we have to go You can say yes or no Who counts the time What's the reason Of all death and decay You have some goals to reach Realize your dreams Go along your way And you'll get a better world

Just believe, just believe me We've got to reach some goals together Let it shine on your life Let the love begin again Just believe, just believe me Remember the moments of love Time to go, time to say How you think and how you feel

There are so many ways to go along I want to say: you be tough and strong It's not always like it seems We always have time for our dreams I say: Just believe me

What makes us blind And why we have to fight? All the love is gone Where are the friends Who tell the truth? Why it's hard to say what you feel? We can fly over mountains And follow our dreams We can try it again And use our second chance

Don't let the feeling die And never say goodbye One more chance One more time To think about a change