

Touch of Your Love

Seventh Avenue

I will always remember the day
That day when you came in my life
You bound my look and touched my soul
From here to eternity

I don't know how to reach you
To reach is just too far
Your name always reminds me
To the dreams of my heart

Now I'm standing here
Gazing the 7th heaven
And I hope you hear my whisper
Listen to my silent screams
When I close my eyes and think at you
Remember what you'd done for me
Long before I took my first breath
You saved me from eternal death

I'm walking through the city
The streets are wet tonight
My past is running through my brain
And I am wondering why

I can feel the touch of your love
As if it was a real touch
Eternal silence bites my soul
And I don't know how to reach you

I don't know how to tell you
Just what you mean to me
Your name always reminds me
To the dreams of my heart
