

Brand New Man

Seventh Day Slumber

A morning rainbow fills the sky, I think I'm dead
But I know I'm not dead yet
I've been missing You, You've been here all along
I guess sometimes I just forget
There was comfort in Your breath
You made me believe that life was worth it

I'm a brand new man. I will never be the same
I'm a brand new man. I will never be the same

I remember the day that I met You. The emptiness I had Could fill a mountain. And I believed it was true,
My pain would never go away
But there was comfort in Your breath,
You made me believe that life was worth it.

And I'm not looking back
My past is far behind me, yeah
I'm stronger every day
You've made me a brand new man
