

Never Too Far Gone

Seventh Day Slumber

Living life so fast
You can't slow down
You feel like time is slipping away
So you're drowning out
Your tomorrows
And the melody of pain
Is on replay

I was lost in that place too long
Don't believe the lies that say you're too far gone
And I won't stand and watch you fall
Fade away and lose it all
It's time to let go of the things you've done
Cause you're never too far gone

You're lost inside
The memory of your past
It's like a knife cut
Right to the soul
So focused on your imperfections
And you hide behind a mask
So no one knows

I was lost in that place too long
You can't believe the lies that say you're too far gone
And I won't stand and watch you fall
Fade away and lose it all
It's time to let go of the things you've done
Cause you're never too far gone

I know you feel ashamed
You feel all alone
You see your life crashing
And you're loosing control
But it's not too late
You don't have to fall
Don't believe the lies that say you're too far gone

I was lost in that place too long
You can't believe the lies that say you're too far gone
And I won't stand and watch you fall
Fade away and lose it all
It's time to let go of the things you've done
Cause you're never too far gone
