Pride

Somedays I wish to run away Fall in the world and stray, My life is turning, turning But when there's nowhwere else to go Pray to the Lord, my soul, My heart is burning, burning

You betray yourself When you think that you're someone else

Someday I'll understand My dreams so deep inside And then I'm free again To leave the pain behind Right here in my hand Feelings I can't hide Someday I'm gone away With nothing but my pride

Somedays I wish to run away Fall in the world and stray, My life is turning, turning

But when there's nowhwere else to go Pray to the Lord, my soul, My heart is burning, burning

You forgive yourself When you know that you're someone else...

Someday I'll understand My dreams so deep inside And then I'm free again To leave the pain behind Right here in my hand Feelings I can't hide Someday I'm gone away With nothing but my pride
