

Speed Of Light

Shades Apart

Day is dawning, morning will begin
Twilight calling, does it have to end?
Can we always be or stay forever running wild and free?

Moon descending, tide comes in again
Never ending, take a long taste of the sunshine
Can we always be, never stop moving

At the speed of light, I try to hold on tight
At the speed of light, never stop
There is no end in sight

The speed of light, I try to hold on tight
At the speed of light, never stop
There is no end in sight

Waves are crashing all around us now
Lights are flashing, don't let them burn out
Lying on the beach, nothing else matters
It's just you and me

Infinite summer, nothing has to end
We will recover, breathe so deep we'll stay forever
Running wild and free, never stop moving

At the speed of light, I try to hold on tight
At the speed of light, never stop
There is no end in sight

At the speed of light, I try to hold on tight
At the speed of light, never stop
There is no end in sight

When the winter closes in and the castles
Built of sand all wash away
We won't cry for yesterday or tomorrow
We will go on living for today

At the speed of light, I try to hold on tight
At the speed of light, never stop
There is no end in sight

At the speed of light, I try to hold on tight
At the speed of light, never stop
There is no end in sight

At the speed of light
At the speed of light
At the speed of light
At the speed of light
At the speed of light
