

Yesterday's Gone

Shakra

Days were running, days of pain
I was afraid of new mornings to come
So many lies so many tears
So many evenings I thought it's not real
I've been losing faith in myself
But times will be changing it'll be over soon
I'm burning fighting screaming like hell
Don't wanna know what's the truth

It's alright, it's okay
It's like the first day of my life
Washing away all the tears that I was crying
It's alright, it's okay
It's like the first breath of my life
Blowing away all the clouds before it's raining
Cuz yesterday's gone

Times are changing life is fair
All that we give we get back in some way
So much hope so much joy
So much pride inside our hearts
And when we are thinking of what we went through
We don't feel no anger no pain anymore
We're stronger harder than ever before
Don't wanna know what's the truth

It's alright, it's okay
It's like the first day of my life
Washing away all the tears that I was crying
It's alright, it's okay
It's like the first breath of my life
Blowing away all the clouds before it's raining
Cuz yesterday's gone