Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby So many times By holding back I let the good things pass me by And then one day I asked myself the reason why And like an answer from above you came into my life And showed me one thing for sure With love nothing is certain You got to go for it when you feel it Everybody, everybody needs somebody to love And I choose you, baby, so let's Make that move right now, baby You only go out once in a lifetime Make that move right now, baby So natural to Give in to feelings deep inside when love is due And I knew something was missing 'cause I feel brand new And motivation's in my heart whenever I'm with you So girl whatever you do Just remember love is a motion You got to hold on tight When you know it's right Everybody, everybody needs somebody to love And I choose you, baby, so let's Make that move right now, baby You only go out once in a lifetime Make that move right now, baby The longer you wait on love, the more you'll be without it Why don't you (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move Let's make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move (Make that move) (Make that move) Make that move Let's make that move So many times By holding back I let the good things pass me by And then one day I asked myself the reason why Like an answer from above you came into my life And that showed me one thing for sure

With love nothing is certain

You got to go for it When you feel it

Everybody, everybody needs somebody to love And I choose you, baby, so let's

Make that move right now, baby
You only go out once in a lifetime
Make that move right now, baby
The longer you wait our love, the more you'll be without it

Make that move right now, baby
Make that move, you've got to make that move
Make that move right now, baby
Come on, baby, come on, pretty baby

Make that move right now, baby
I just want you to make that move right now
Make that move right now, baby
If you make that move with me, I'll be yours eternally

Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby Make that move right now, baby
