

Gasoline

Shaman's Harvest

Won't you catch a sunrise with me
So we can dance so spiritually
But I'm not gonna be the one to tell you
You're kickin' sand in your eyes
And two years ago this moment would be important,
But I have changed with the seasons
I'm sorry for you I have become
This empty husk of a man
Give you no obligation this angel
Is just so free to fly

Pour gasoline on me just for fun
I won't measure you out for less than you are
Pour gasoline on me just for fun
I won't measure you out for less than you are

And I'm sorry but the time
Did not stand still
And your lips were not quite so
Perfect still
I've been waiting for the sun
To be undone
What a fool I've been losin' you
Did no know what I had until it was gone
Please don't wait too long
I would give anything to see once again
Your heart in your eyes
Don't throw away my own need for you

Pour gasoline on me just for fun
I won't measure you out for less than you are
Pour gasoline on me just for fun
