

The Missing Pieces

Shamrain

So deep I have fell
These dreamy dimensions
Under your spell
Where all is perfect
In soft clouds I've drowned
A deepest kind of slumber
My feet have lost the ground
Will I ever wake up again?
Will I ever fall down again?

Still something's missing
My core still aches
Longs for bygone moments
Quietly withers and breaks
I descend further away
Slowly begin to fade
Inside this world I am astray
Will I ever find home again?
Will I ever be whole again?
Will I ever wake up again?
Will I ever fall down again?
