

Always Tomorrow

Shane Filan

Sometimes there's no rhyme or reason
It could rain in any season
It's funny how the world goes round
You feel like today is going your way
Life spins you out like a hurricane
Don't know if you're up or down
But you gotta just keep on trying
When you just feel so tired
It's a one way road but I know it's gonna lead us home
That's why I just keep on walking
As long as I hear you talking

Tell me again what you said last night
When you leaned over and turned out the light
You said, "Don't worry, no, no..
There's always tomorrow"
You took a breath and you smiled at me
And you whispered as you kissed my cheek
You said, "Don't worry, no, no..
There's always tomorrow"

Sometimes you can try too hard
To see what's written in the stars
They show you the way to go
The days will always go too fast
Before you know it you're in the past
So never look back, no
That's why I just keep on walking
As long as I hear you talking

Tell me again what you said last night
When you leaned over and turned out the light
You said, "Don't worry, no, no..
There's always tomorrow"
You took a breath and you smiled at me
And you whispered as you kissed my cheek
You said, "Don't worry, no, no..
There's always tomorrow"
Yeah, there's always tomorrow

You're always there just by my side
When I can't see it
You still try to make it right
To make it right

So tell me again what you said last night
When you leaned over and turned out the light
You said, "Don't worry, no, no..
There's always tomorrow"
You took a breath and you smiled at me
And you whispered as you kissed my cheek
You said, "Don't worry, no, no..
There's always tomorrow"
Yeah, yeah
There's always tomorrow
