I Don't Know You

Shawn Colvin

Is it me or is it you Or just the spoils of our little war You look just like you always do But I don't know you anymore

Same time, same place Same lips, same taste And the sound of slamming doors I hear your voice I see your face But I don't know you...

You were soft and sweet like candy Kisses warm and wet as rain Now I'm looking through you baby You're not the same

Was it real and was it new Or just some lines you'd said before I trace our steps I look for clues But I don't know you anymore

Was it me you fell into Or was it just the clothes I wore Was it me or was it you But I don't know you
