

This Is What It Takes

Shawn Mendes

I watch your troubled eyes as you rest
And I fall in love with every breath
Wonder if those eyes are really shut
And 'am I the one you're dreaming of?'

Cause underneath the darkness
There's a light that's trying so hard to be seen
And I know this cause I notice
A little bit shining through the seams

And if this is what it takes then let me be the one to bear the pain
If this is what it takes
I'll break down these walls that are in our way
If this is what it takes

You keep on telling me I'm wasting time
But to call it wasting time, oh that's a crime
And you think it's crazy what I'm tryna do Well baby, I'm a fool for you

Cause underneath the darkness
There's a light that's trying so hard to be seen
And I know this cause I notice
A little bit shining through the seems

And if this is what it takes then let me be the one to bear the
pain
If this is what it takes I'll break down these walls that are in our way

Cause if you don't understand yet
Then I'll never let you forget that you don't have to do this o n your own
I'll be your shoulder to lean on, I'll be your right when you f eel wrong
So c'mon take my hand, we're moving on

And if this is what it takes then let me be the one to bear the
pain
If this is what it takes
I'll break down these walls that are in our way
If this is what it takes
