A Better Man

Shayne Ward

Until the oceans all run dry Until the stars fall from the sky Even if words dont seem to rhyme Ill be addicted to your smile

And if the wind blows out the sun Ill still believe you are the one No matter what we're going through I'll plan to spend my nights with you

I promise you my heart wont fade I swear to you my soul always It isnt hard to understand You're making me a better man

Baby my love will say it all I'll always catch you when you fall And if the hard times get too much I'll still be craving for your touch

I promise you my heart wont fade I swear to you my soul always It isnt hard to understand You're making me a better man

I dedicate my world I dedicate my all For every moment Your leaving me breathless

I dedicate my touch Forevers not enough I wanna hold on I just wanna hold on to you

I promise you my heart wont fade I swear to you my soul always It isnt hard to understand You're making me a better man

It isnt hard to understand, your making me a better man
