

Sleep

She Wants Revenge

Right off the bat
You just shoot down everything
And dark as the night
You thrive upon troubled times

Right off the bat
You just shoot down everything
No love in your heart
There's no love in your life

Anymore
Just sleep
Sleep

Now the tables turning
But your lips met and advance go only so far
Wishing someone had told us about her
With our hands tied and our patience waning
And the mood goes from urgent to not so as hours pass slow
Screaming this is surrender

I've got a mind
To just tell you everything
With no holding back
All without any lies
And now that we're here
Let's just break apart everything
And secretly try
Try to put some love in your life

But for now
Just sleep
Sleep

Now the tables turning
But your lips met and advance go only so far
Wishing someone had told us about her
With our hands tied and our patience waning
And the mood goes from urgent to not so as hours pass slow
Screaming this is surrender

Sleep

Now the tables turning
But your lips met and advance go only so far
Wishing someone had told us about her
With our hands tied and our patience waning
And the mood goes from urgent to not so as hours pass slow
Screaming this is surrender

Now the tables turning
(this is surrender)
With our hands tied and our patience waning (this is surrender)

Now the tables turning
(this is surrender) [x2]
