

Back In The City

Sheena Easton

Warm nights in the city, someones playing Latin in the park
Street lights shining pretty, shadows on the lovers in the dark

Its the reason for the getaway
Lay upon the roof and just forget about the day

Back in the city, everybody moves to a different beat in the ci ty
See the motion, feel the heat of the city
Somethings happening in the streets of the city

Cool breeze on the river, making you aware that you're alive
Bodies start to shiver, passions start to shift to overdrive

Picture feelings that you cant control
Elementary voices calling deep inside your soul

Back in the city, everybody moves to a different beat in the ci
ty
See the motion, feel the heat of the city
Somethings happening in the streets of the city

Back in the city, everybody moves to a different beat in the ci
ty
See the motion, feel the heat of the city
Somethings happening in the streets of the city
