

In The Name Of Comfort

Shelter

Ideals fall through... and promises too. We'll skip the test... and settle for less. Who's been overlooked... and who's been r ooked? Who's left to die... and who's left to cry? We'll shut o ur ears... we don't want to hear. The suffering and pain... it' ll bother our brain. Don't like being disturbed... or even pert urbed. Oh so many hurt for wanting comfort first! Turn off the brain... to reason is pain. It's easier to accept... than to qu estion it. We'll tag and lable... and assume when we're able. L ost our common sense... for the sake of convenience. What frien ds did we abuse... and who did we use? Which did we chose... an d which will we lose? Well it's easier to judge... and hold a g rudge. But left sad and lonely, I relied on comfort only! And h ow much will we waste... decorating our space? A high priced ne st... just so we can rest. A test of sincerity; can we preform the austerity? Excuses justification for a comfortable situatio n