Leo Song

You are so majestic, so skillful In the way that you make me sick You are the perfect one The only one for you

And now even though that it's true Still see a lot of myself in you And now even though that it's true It's only 'cause I'm a Leo

It's so oh oh overly strange I'm a rebel in my brain But I'm just a midget When it comes to being saved Beware little girl Your oh so cool clubs Could be passing judgment on you You're so exclusive So elusive That you're not quite human

And now even though that is true What else could a lost girl do And now even though that is true It's probably 'cause you're a Leo

Thank you so much for the conversation I guess I'll be leaving now Thank you for the words of inspiration I guess I'll be going Shihad
