Stranger

The night goes on and on It seems like it's forever Wish we were home instead If how it's turnin' out

There's somethin' you cannot explain The one thing that gets in the way

Don't say the things you said Can't you see that way I made a mistake

You've become a stranger to me now You kept it all inside Instead of letting it come out

Loved sayin' I'll be there And knowin' that you mean it We could go anywhere And never be apart

There's somethin' you cannot escape There's one thing you can never fake

Don't say the things you said Can't you see that way I made a mistake?

You've become a stranger to me now You kept it all inside Instead of letting it come out

Through all the lonely days And all the times that I spent waitin' To finally be with you again Just to discover that you changed And things will never be the same

You've become a stranger to me now You kept it all inside Instead of letting it come out

Yeah, it's gone too far this time Yeah, you let it slip away Yeah, we've gone too far this time Things will never be the same
