Lost in the Crowd

Shinedown

Should I offer up my hand And save a wish for once For all of us And should I offer up my hand And lay the guilt on myself So it's easier to not stay ,t o not stay

Because I found you in your corner I pulled you out of the clouds You left in such a hurry Your face is lost in the crowd

Should I open up my eye's Or just ignore who you are And what you could have been And should I open up my eye's And make believe you will change So it's easier to not stay, to not stay

Because I found you in your corner I pulled you out of the clouds You left in such a hurry Your face is lost in the crowd

Because I found you in your corner I pulled you out of the clouds You left in such a hurry Your face is lost in the crowd

Your face is lost in the crowd Your face is lost in the crowd
