Some Day

Shinedown

Someday, when I'm older And they never know my name Somehow, if I'm honest I can never feel ashamed Maybe I was wrong to Hold you up so high Now I know I've lost you To the feelings I kept inside

I don't know if it felt like I wanted you here, the way that I wanted you last time We're not on the same page, you don't even know me Cause you never took the time

Someday, when it's over And you never show your face I hope you'll remember How I tried to make you a place And so now, I move on To keep my piece of mind In someway, I've failed you But I just ran out of time

I don't know if it felt like I wanted you here, the way that I wanted you last time We're not on the same page, you don't even know me Cause you never took the time

I'm not sure that you hear me I'm not sure that you look at me the same I will always be attached to you But I'm never gonna feel the same

I don't know if it felt like I wanted you here, the way that I wanted you last time We're not on the same page, you don't even know me Cause you never took the time No, you never took the time

Someday, when I'm older...
