

Waiting Alone

Shiny Toy Guns

Do you really never see me when you come home late at night?
I'm always waiting alone for you
You used to make me feel so much alive
Now I'm waiting alone for you

I am a son, your chosen one
Don't think out loud, just trust my gun
I never said I'd think things through
I'd never wait on you

Do you really never see me when you come home late at night?
I'm always waiting alone for you

You used to make me feel so much alive
Now I'm waiting alone for you

Do you really believe my tongue?
I'm not afraid I've angered God
I never meant to hurt no one
It's how I stay alive

Do you really never see me when you come home late at night?
(Do you really even come home late at night?)
I'm always waiting alone for you
You used to make me feel so much alive
(I rarely feel like I'm alive)
Now I'm waiting alone for you

'Cause I cannot cry over and over again
You've got to stop the lies about what's real and what's pretended

Do you really never see me when you come home late at night?
I'm always waiting alone for you
You used to make me feel so much alive
(I used to make you feel alive)
Now I'm waiting alone for you
(Waiting alone for you)
