

My Love Has Two Faces

Shirley Bassey

My love has two faces
One false one true
My love has two faces
Which one is you?

The first night
A warm light
flickered in your eyes
The first time
you held me
summer filled my heart
The first kiss you gave me woke a sleeping dream and I began to scheme
how we would never part

But love has two faces
One false one true
Which face are you wearing?
I wish I knew

Oh last night
A cold light
shivered in your glance
yes last night
your cold eyes
started sudden fears That moment my heart felt winter's icy kiss did I imagine this or can the end be near?

My love has two faces
One false one true
One lies and one loves me
which one is you?
which one is you?
