

Circles

Shorebirds

We all remain here because we want something different.
We dance in circles with the problems we came in with.
And it goes on and on. Is this a safe space for everyone?
I don't know. Arrogance and ignorance our relevance defeated.
Is it enough so many feel like they've been cheated.
And we still sing our songs. Does it even matter anymore?
I don't know.