Where You Come In

Shout Out Louds

Soon I'll be on my way
Time is on my side, I'm blowing away
That's where you come in
You come in

I never wanted it
And I never forced you upon it
I never wanted it
And I never forced you upon it

Sometimes you give, sometimes you take a little too much Sometimes not enough, not enough
Sometimes you give, sometimes you take a little too much Sometimes not enough, not enough

I make plans to leave for the city

To stay up all the night, for the sun to greet me

But that's where you come in, where the feeling sets in

Sometimes you give, sometimes you take a little too much Sometimes you give, sometimes you take a little too much That's where you come in Where you come in Where you come in
