

Don't Be A Stranger

Show Of Hands

We've been together
A hundred nights and more
Put ten thousand miles on the clock
But the year is almost over
And other voices call
And so this journey has to stop
Whatever roads may follow
The parting of the ways
In times of doubt and danger
Think about this moment
Look back on these days
And don't be a stranger

The spoils have been divided
Numbers exchanged
Promises made to keep in touch
All the secrets we confided
All the lives we gently changed
But best intentions only mean so much
Whatever roads may follow
The parting of the ways
In times of doubt and danger
Look back on these moments
Think about these days
Don't be a stranger

Time and space conspire
To gently douse the fire
Of friendship we fought so hard to light
So pass this way again
Let our laughter fan the flames
It's embers will warm us through the night
