

Smiling Eyes

Showaddywaddy

Hey you, with your smiling eyes,
Bring the warmth into this winters day,
It's true, that your smiling eyes,
Make a jealous blue turn into grey.
With your ragged clothes,
You sure look a picture,
With your smiling eyes.

Hey you, with your childish laugh,
With your turn-up nose it suits you fine,
It's true, every time you smile,
I can hear the wind breathe out a sigh,
With your innocent look,
Freckles I can see,
It's just the sun in the sky.
With your ragged clothes,
You sure look a picture,
With your smiling eyes.

With your ragged clothes,
You sure look a picture,
With your smiling eyes.
With your innocent look,
Freckles I can see,
It's just the sun in the sky.
With your ragged clothes,
You sure look a picture,
With your smiling eyes.

Hey you, with your smiling eyes.
