

The Sky (Alpha)

Showbread

I remember you
When you are wrapped in darkness
When the world closes her eyes
I remember you
I think of resting with you
When you finally go to sleep
Meet Me in the closet of your heart
So that you may lay at My feet

"Who is this?" they said to Me
'That the wind and waves obey
Come, let's hang Him on a tree
That His reign should pass away'
But here I am I say to you
Though you turn away, it is My will
To love you for forevermore
Peace be still, peace be still

I ache for you
When My body cracks and I sigh
When I am wrapped in darkness
When the world closes her eyes
I think of you
When I breathe, when I rise and I bow
When time passes and when she stands
