

I see the world this way
Never thought that it could be
If you're so smart then you would open up your eyes
But you're so stupid that you can't realize it Could it be insanity I question the humanity
I'm thinking of life, thinking of life
I study the possibilities I'm thinking of tranquility I'm thinking of love, thinking of love and I don't want to beat it up, no color creed I'm thinking of obli terating racism
Yeah, I just want to make it known that he who casts the first stone
You'll love yourself, and ove everyone else
