

Ralphie

Showoff

Just last week I saw you standing there.
I'd have thought that you were someone else's girl.
Loved your eyes your smile and your short brown hair.
I knew right away you were there to brighten up my world.

Put your arms around me.
I remember when we first met and kissed.
I knew right away that you were for me.
You're exactly what my life has missed.

My hearts been locked up way too long and you hold the key.
Put your arms around me.
With you I'll do anything as long as your with me I'm tasting e cstasy,
You and your sweet name.

I don't know why the sun don't shine anymore.
I know, you and your name.
Put your arms around me never let go.
