

Unspoken Words

Showoff

Unspoken words are on my mind
Searching my head for that answer, I can't find
Do I mean anything to you?
Dying inside, knowing that we are through

Blind man inside my head, tell me again
Not everything begins, but everything must end
I close the door to feel emotional winds
Blind man inside my head, tell me again

Tell me again about those unspoken words are on my mind
Searching my head for those answers, I can't find
Do I mean anything to you?
Dying inside, knowing that we are through

Blind man inside my head, tell me again
Not everything begins, but everything must end
I close the door to feel emotional winds
Blind man inside my head, tell me again

Tell me again about those unspoken words
