

One Day To The Next

Sick Of Change

Time passed by
And I had the nerve
To try to get back into your life.
There hadn't been quite enough time
For you to forgive me
For how bad I made you feel.

[Chorus]
And over time things change;
It's time for us to go our separate ways.
You weren't the person that I once knew.
You've changed ever since I first met you.

You changed from one day to the next.
Most of the time
I didn't know what to expect.
You fell away from God.
I love you,
But in a different way than you want me to.
