Feel I should apologize is it pretentious in your eyes to think you want to hear our band hope you care or even understand

And you can throw it out if there is no doubt you've heard this song before I'm not gonna care about it anymore

If there's nothing new can I copy you steal a song or two borrowed line here and there they were never mine why should I care and if it's all been done then we're on our way with a bullet straight to number one 'cause we stole the hits we may not be artists but at least we're not

Dumb old songs that we abused ignorance is such a lame excuse but I didn't know what I'd got into I was only 12 and it seemed like the thing to do

That's all it was nothing more than something fun to do I'm sorry if you're disappointed in the truth Sicko
