

Thou Blessed Be By Night

Siebenbürgen

Silent thou wandered the forest that night
Stalked through the shadows, not a sound or sight
The fullmoon was calling, thou could not sleep
Nor find peace in thy grave, thy keep Flickering shadows embraced thee that night
Embraced thee in darkness, caressed thee with might Thy hunger was pain, thy pain was lust
Ashes to ashes, dust to dust

"...My angel nocturnal
Thou blessed be by night
Shadows enthrones thee eternal
With darkened glory and might..."

Thy touch me enchanted
My soul thee enseamed
Everything that thee granted
Forgotten sins thus gleamed

Thy lust shrouded in darkness lies
Covered with painful delight
Hear my anguish, as prayer dies
Lost as treasures, pearls of night
