IOpener

Sienna Skies

Whats the point with all of this? My eyes held open with visual bliss The utmost respect is given by gazing All our surroundings your eyes are erasing

My eyes are opened wide staring right into yours This worlds a giant castle and your eyes open the doors To cross the mote of feelings and fight away the guards Theirs a horse and carriage waiting and its all ours

All ours as your eyes lead the way though town (The, way, through, town) And the life we will lead will show everyone they're free Show They're Free

Another broken silence Another love will reign Another crowd inspired to love and love again We will show them all that this is really true And we will set the benchmark just me and you

Me and you As we both show that love is true (That love is true) As my eyes open wide you've shown me this side of life

You opened up my eyes

We have shown the world that love is true And it makes you feel again It makes, you live again Love is special it is true Well it is when its with you Love is special it is true Well it is when its with you