

Easy Come, Easy Go

Sierra Hull

Ghost in my closet and under my bed
Things that a child lets go on in her head
But I'm not a child anymore

My first real heartbreak I was undone
Sworn that I'd given up on love
But I'm not afraid, anymore

And I would look back on our story
But that chapters gone
And like raindrops off my back
I can let your memories roll
Easy come easy go

Yesterday morning I drove by your place
Reach for my cheek no tears on my face
'Cause I'm not that girl anymore

And I look back on our story
But that chapters gone
Like raindrops off my back
I can let your memories roll
Easy come easy go
Easy go
To the place of peace that I have come to know

Once all my dreams were tied up in you
And I walked up in fear that you would not come true
But I'm not afraid anymore

And I can look back on our stories
But that chapters gone
And like raindrops on my back I can let your memories roll
Easy come, easy go
