

Medicate

Signs of Betrayal

Are you there lost along the way opening doors trying to medicate I'm still here waiting to embrace finding your ghost that's already been erased so hold on until I'm gone when I get there I'll take you along we'll hide away from the rest of the world someday underneath eternal skies as we watch the days go by are you there tears upon your face no one can see because of the pouring rain I'm still here waiting trying to sedate passing the time by numbing the pain away

so hold on until I'm gone

there never was any sort of closure so I kept increasing the dosage my only option to feel now is finding my way back to you somehow

we'll hide away from the rest of the world someday
