

Each Other And Ourselves

Sikth

I swallowed the heart you left by the table
Well I've been wanting the warmth of a hand
She caught all them babbles with nothing [?]
'Neath the stars and skies and fireflies

There's another pillow in a hotel room under our heads
Not so far away but still unclear
Energy, unknown, unseen
Arise, they seem to lead to [?]
[?]

And the stars and skies and fireflies

And I miss her
I'll always miss you, my dear
While I wait for your broken heart now
If I knew
I'll be waiting every night I'm through now [?]
I've got to find this together
First I sorry [?]
Your vision in my room I can't deny
We need to go higher
Now we're in the fire

We're lost in each other and ourselves
We are lost in each other and ourselves
We're lost in each other and ourselves
We are lost in each other and ourselves

As the last tear fell upon my shoulder
I sit so long [?]
Another pillow in a hotel room under our heads
Visions of you and the shape of your smile
I scream for your heart and I hope to be with... you

I always miss you
I always miss you, my dear
I miss you always
I'm always dreaming of you
I always miss you
I'm always dreaming of you
I miss you always
I'm always dreaming of you
I always miss you
I always miss you, my dear
